Seventeene Shillings and two pence.

From "College Book, No. III." (page 1).

1. AFter God had carried us safe to New-England, and wee had builded our houses, provided necessaries for our liveli-hood, rear'd convenient places for Gods worship, and setled the Civill Government: One of the next things we longed for, and looked after was to advance Learning and perpetuate it to Posterity; dreading to leave an illiterate Ministery to the Churches, when our present Ministers shall lie in the Dust. And as wee were thinking and consulting how to effect this great Work; it pleased God to stir up the heart of one Mr. Harvard (a godly Gentleman and a lover of Learning, there living amongst us) to give the one halfe of his Estate (it being in all about 1700. l.) towards the erecting of a Colledge, and all his Library: after him another gave 300. l. others after them cast in more, and the publique hand of the State added the rest: the Colledge was by common consent, appointed to be at Cambridge, (a place very pleasant and accommodate and is called (according to the name of the first founder) Harvard Colledge.

From "New England's First Fruits, in respect of the progress of learning, in the Colledge at Cambridge in Massachusetts-bay," etc. (page 12). London. 1643.

[1] "Over the Colledge are twelve Overseers chosen by the General Court, six of them are of the Magistrates, the other six of the Ministers, who are to promote the best good of it, and (having a power of influence into all persons in it) are to see that every one be diligent and proficient in his proper place." — New England's First Fruits (London, 1643) page 13.

[2] The Charter of 1692, which, though duly passed by the legislature, was neither approved by the King nor accepted by the College, made no provision whatever for a board of Overseers or Visitors, all power being placed in the Corporation.

The Charter of 1697 was likewise returned without approval by the King, but the College was for a period conducted under its provisions. The Governor and Council were to "have, use, and exercise a power of visitation as there shall be occasion for it," but their relation to the Corporation was not defined with exactness.

The bill of 1699, which was not signed by Governor Bellamont, assigned the power of visitation to the "King and his Governor."

The Charter of 1700, which, like that of 1697, was for a time acknowledged by the College, though not approved by the King, reserved a power of visitation to the Governor and Council.

[3] Fifteen laymen were to be elected, upon acceptance of the act, by the old Board of Overseers, and were so elected, May 10, 1810; the fifteen ministers already members of the Board continued in office. Members were to hold office so long as they remained inhabitants of the State, unless removed by the Board for cause; but a minister who ceased to hold the ministerial relation he held when the act was accepted, or at the time of his election, thereby vacated his place in the Board. The Board was empowered to elect new members to fill vacancies occurring among either class.

[1] The Act of 1810 (March 6) was repealed by an act of February 29, 1812, and the Board of Overseers re-established as it had existed prior to 1810. The validity of the Act of 1812, which did not provide for submission of the Act to the Corporation and Overseers for their approval, was denied by these bodies but it was regarded as inexpedient to press the point, and the restored Board conducted business from June 3, 1812, until the re-establishment of the Board of 1810 by the Act of February 28, 1814.

† Not Instructors regularly appointed, but persons permitted by the Corporation to teach such students as so desired. In 1766 the students were forbidden to attend the instruction of unauthorized teachers, and the position of the licensed teachers became more defined; their charges were included in the quarter-bills, and they shared with the tutors the privileges of the Library, of Commons, etc.

NOTE.

Under votes of the Corporation and Overseers the following facts are entered in the Quinquennial Catalogue.

In the Class lists record is made of certain honors, degrees, and positions held, as well in the past as in the present, by graduates. The following paragraphs show concisely what honors, degrees, and positions are thus recorded, and the manner in which they are indicated. The order adopted is that in which the facts are arranged in the Class lists.

1. Degrees conferred by Harvard University and other universities, colleges and professional schools of high standing; honorary degrees being distinguished from those obtained by examination.

   The designation of a degree is followed by the name of the institution conferring it, and by the date of conferment; except that degrees conferred by Harvard University are followed by the date only, and the degree of Master of Arts, formerly taken in course, that is, three years after the date of the Bachelor's degree, appears without date.

   Graduates who received their degrees out of course are placed with their respective classes, and the date when the degree was conferred immediately follows the name.

   The completion of the regular course at a professional school which confers no degree, is indicated by the name of the institution and the date when the course was completed.

   When the same degree has been received from two or more institutions, the order of arrangement is by date; with this exception, that degrees conferred by Harvard University are placed first, without regard to chronology.

2. Offices in Harvard University: President; Fellow; Treasurer; Overseer (by election); Professor, Assistant Professor; Tutor; Instructor, and Lecturer, if the appointment be for more than a year; Dean; Librarian, Assistant Librarian; Director; Curator; and offices of like character.

3. Professorial appointments in other universities, colleges, and professional schools of good standing.

4. Professional appointments of high grade under the United States government, or other national governments.

5. The position of headmaster or principal in leading secondary schools, both public and endowed; and that of Superintendent of Schools in cities of not less than 100,000 inhabitants.

6. Membership in foreign societies of high standing, provided such membership is regarded by those societies as an honorable distinction.

7. Membership in the National Academy of Sciences; American Academy of Arts and Sciences; American Philosophical Society; Massachusetts Historical Society; and honorary membership in American Societies of high standing.

8. Offices under the United States government: President; Vice President; President of the Senate (when not the Vice President); Member of the Cabinet; Senator; Speaker and Member of the House of Representatives; Ambassador; Minister; Chief Justice and Justice of the Supreme Court; Chief Justice and Judge of the Court of Claims; Judge of a Circuit or District Court; Major-General and higher ranks (not by brevet); Rear Admiral and higher ranks.

9. Offices under the State governments: Governor; Chief Justice and Justice of the Supreme Court; State Superintendent of Public Education, or whatever office corresponds thereto; also Governors of Territories, Chief Justice and Justice of the Supreme Court in Territories and in the District of Columbia.

10. Offices of similar grade, and honorary appointments, under foreign governments.

ABBREVIATIONS.

The abbreviations used are, in general, self-explanatory. For degrees the Latin abbreviations are commonly used (S.T.B. = B.D., S.T.D. = D.D.), but the degree of Doctor of Civil Law is indicated by D.C.L., and for several technical degrees the English abbreviations are given.
